

Routine Matters Discussed By Council

Two Cases of Cerebro Spinal Meningitis in East Coleman; Relief Cases Considered.

Regular meeting of the council was held in the council chamber on Tuesday evening. Present: Mayor Antrobus, Councillors Abousafy, Balloch, Ford, Jenkins, and Kerr.

Mrs. Vera Danylak was present and asked council for relief. A grant from the senior governments had come forward for her and she was instructed to call at the town office on Wednesday for the money. A rider in the senior governments' relief form asked Mrs. Danylak to communicate with the Employment Bureau at Calgary.

A letter from Woods Christian Home regarding qualifications for entrance into the Home was filed. Coleman Light & Water Co. will be requested to service the new residence of Jim Couvins, located on Seventh street, with light and water.

A letter was received from Brewster, Cross and Morik, adjusters for insurance, on the recently damaged Zak building. Council will enter a claim with the adjusters for tax arrears on this building.

Dr. H. G. Claxton, medical health officer, submitted his report for November. Two cases of cerebro spinal meningitis came in, East Coleman and the cases have been reported to the provincial government. There has been an outbreak of scarlet fever and anti-toxin has been ordered.

At the request of the council at their last meeting, Mrs. Lucasek submitted a list of clothing required. This will be purchased.

A letter of thanks to the council from Mrs. Joe Petrunick expressed appreciation for their influence with International Coal Co. regarding damage to her home through the ground subsiding.

A letter was received from Mrs. Lucy Stevenson asking council if it was responsible for rent for a house owned by her and formerly occupied by Mrs. John Lochrie. A certain sum was granted Mrs. Stevenson.

A relief application was received from Mrs. Ruth Blower. She was recommended to be placed on the $30 relief.

A Union Jack was authorized purchased. Strong winds ripped to shreds the new flag purchased recently.

Mrs. Vera Danylak was granted two tons of coal.

Manure has again been dumped on the sports field. As the field is surfaced with combustible material (sack cloth), manure may cause a fire which would result in heavy loss. Expense is incurred in having to remove it.

Persons caught dumping it and of refuse there will be prosecuted.

A letter will be sent Mr. Fauville, Sixth street, asking him to take down the fence on the right side of the road on the right side of the road on the right side of the road.

Permission was granted Foreman John Nikituk to fill in a portion of the large hole on Fifth street, so that a safe passage for auto traffic can be made behind the Dutil residence to the avenue alongside the Atkinson residence.

Lions to Sponsor Sale of War Savings Certificates

Will Sponsor Team in Pee Wee League; Banquets to be Held in Empire Hotel

The semi-monthly meeting of the Lions' Club was held in the Empire hotel on Tuesday evening with approximately fifty persons present.

Discussion took place regarding the promotion of war savings stamps and it was decided to appoint a chairman for the campaign, Fred Gerard. The committee will interview organizations sponsoring whilst and bridge drives and ask them to give war savings certificates as prizes. It is likely a house-to-house canvass will be made to boost the sale.

The Italian society will not sponsor a Pee Wee team this year. The equipment has been turned in to the association. The Lions will sponsor a team and the above equipment will be given to the Lions' team, Harry Gardner was appointed chairman of the hockey team committee.

The club will also give support to the rink executive in order that the operation of the arena might be made as smooth as possible. The club will not take part in financing the arena but will act in an advisory capacity.

A. Gentile Heads Intermediate Hockey Team

S. Ferraro Elected Secretary; Will Enter C.N.P. Intermediate League.

Fourteen interested hockey fans met in the basement of the Grand Union hotel on Sunday evening and elected a committee to organize an intermediate hockey team for the season 1940-41. Officers elected were: president, A. Gentile; vice-president, Lorenzo Richards; secretary-treasurer, S. Ferraro; executive, George Duffield, jr.; James Denholm, Wm. Martin and Buck Grant.

Retiring secretary Tom McGowen read the 1939-40 financial statement which showed revenue amounted to $295.75. Expenses were $281.07, leaving a profit of $14.68.

It was moved to enter the C.N.P. league which is expected to include teams from Medicine Hat, Lethbridge, Blairmore and Coleman.

A long discussion took place regarding the financial arrangements which the team will make with the arena management. S. Nurcombe was sent for and gave the meeting a detailed report as to the estimated expense involved in operating the rink this season. In order to meet all financial obligations it will be necessary to charge every person trying out with the team a season ticket of $3.00. This will give the holder of the ticket hockey and skating privileges. In order to watch the team practice all persons will be charged by the arena management a small admission fee of probably ten cents. The executive was given power to arrange satisfactory terms with the arena management.

In order to raise finances it was decided to sponsor a Christmas dance and endeavor to secure Ardians' orchestra. Two door prizes, $10.00 and $5.00. War Savings certificates will be awarded.

Gordon Nurcombe Commissioned As Flying Officer

Will Leave Coleman Tuesday; Came Here Four Years Ago; Mrs. Nurcombe Will Reside At Vancouver.

Gordon Nurcombe has been called to the R.C.A.F. where he has been commissioned as a flying officer. He will leave Coleman next Tuesday for Trenton, Ont., where he will commence his new duties.

He joined Canada's armed forces at the age of sixteen in the last war and was a flying ace as a pilot at a Toronto flying school in 1918 when the armistice was signed.

Mrs. Nurcombe will leave for Vancouver to take up residence while her husband remains in the air force.

Mr. Nurcombe came to Coleman in November, 1936, and has been accountant at the local branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce since. He has taken a keen interest in sport, especially Pee Wee hockey, and has done much to bring this branch of hockey into the public eye. He was president of the Pee Wee hockey association until this week, when he turned over his office to Ray Spillers, public school teacher. Mr. Spillers will now guide the destiny of the youngsters in the realm of hockey during 1940-41 and in addition with his committee, take charge of the arena, the Pee Wee association having leased the building for the coming season.

JIM COUSINS HAS ARTICLE PUBLISHED IN CANADIAN HORTICULTURE

Jim Cousins, one of Coleman's ardent "flowerists," has been successful in having published an article on how to keep bulbs through the severe Canadian winter. The article appeared in the Christmas edition.

Jim has given five years of study to his subject. He has now moved into his new residence on Seventh street and he and Mrs. Cousins anticipate the day when they can transform the barren ground around their home into a garden of beautiful flowers.

During Westminster's War Weapons Week, $4,082,275, sufficient to buy a battle-cruiser, was raised.

Coleman Lady's Former Home Destroyed by Nazi Bomb

Uncle of Adam Pollock, of Hillcrest, Killed in Raid; Town Had No Military Objectives.

The Kingdom of Fate is sharing the brunt of Nazi attacks as well as the large industrial centres of England. The latest Old Country mail received tells how the Nazi bombers are dropping their bombs indiscriminately on small towns of absolutely no military value.

One instance of this is the town where Mrs. Robert Morris resided before coming to Canada. The town is small, boasting of little more than four rows of houses, library, etc., with a coal mine being well out of the town limits. A Nazi raid caused destruction of a number of houses, among them being the home in which Mrs. Morris and her family had lived and previously resided.

It was in this raid that Thomas Pollock, aged about 70 years, was killed. The old gentleman was a friend of Adam Pollock, of Hillcrest, the latter being well known in Pass football circles. The elder Mr. Pollock, sitting in an Anderson shelter, decided that he would fix the fire in his home. He left the shelter and in tending to the fire a bomb dropped, killing him.

His present position with CBC is advisor and critic.

HILL FRASER SIGNS WITH LETHBRIDGE MAPLE LEAFS

Bill Fraser has signed on with Lethbridge Maple Leafs. He confirmed this announcement on Monday morning. He does not expect to take part in all the club's games, but should injuries cripple the club he will be called on. Lack of ice has prevented him getting into condition to hold his own against players who have been on the ice drilling and playing for the past months. Local fans will have added interest in the Lethbridge club when both Fraser and Joyce are wearing the Leaflet uniform.

WEDDINGS

CLARKE — LOCHRIE
The wedding took place at Calgary on Monday, November 4, of Mrs. John Lochrie, of Coleman, to Mr. George Clarke, of Calgary. The couple will reside at Calgary.

Mrs. Lochrie is well-known, having lived here for a number of years. She left only a few months ago to take up residence in Calgary. The groom is a brother of "Bud" Clarke. He resided in Coleman in 1923 and is known to some local residents.

Don Pytky, proprietor of Coleman Pils. Studio, returned home on Sunday evening following a two months vacation at Wynyard, Sask., where he was the guest of his sister. Enroute home he visited Tom Goldring, a local boy, who is teaching school at Latham, Alberta.

A CHRISTMAS GIFT reminder throughout the year would be a subscription to The Journal. It will be sent direct from this office to any address.

Petition Presented to Council to Share Secretarial Work

Signed by Many Residents of Third, Fourth and Fifth Streets

A petition was laid before the council on Tuesday evening, signed by a large number of residents on Third, Fourth and Fifth streets, as follows:

Mayor and Councillors—We, the undersigned taxpayers of Coleman, do hereby petition the council to give further consideration to the appointment of Miss Lees as secretary of the Town of Coleman for the duration of the war. Inasmuch as this position has been held by a person other than the school district secretary, we do not believe at this time that it is good policy to give two positions to one person while other persons capable in town are unemployed.

A further note is presented in the petition. It reads—"I have petitioned the 97% of this portion of the town. Only three persons refused to sign. I consider this is enough to show the attitude of the people of Coleman to my claim.—Mrs. Ruth Jackson."

Council discussed the petition and qualifications necessary for a position of this kind. They included among others that the candidate must be 21 years, must have two years' experience in similar work and high school education, also that the Minister of Municipal Affairs must sanction the appointment. A letter to this effect will be sent to Mrs. Jackson.

The council also desired to make it known that it was they who approached Miss Lees to accept the position of town secretary, not Miss Lees who approached the council.

RED CROSS MEETING ON MONDAY

A public meeting of Coleman branch of the Red Cross Society will be held in the council chamber on Monday, December 8, at 8 o'clock.

Endeavor to Make Hockey Draw Saturday Night

Ticket Stubs on Display in Chalmers' Jewelry Store Window; Draw to Take Place Between Shows.

The stubs of all tickets sold in the Coleman Canadians raffle, which was started in the spring of this year, are on display at the window of Chalmers' Jewelry store. Arrangements are being made to have the draw for the $50, $25 and $10 War Savings Certificates take place at the Palace theatre next Saturday evening between the first and second shows.

The raffle had originally been intended to raise sufficient funds to wipe out the club's indebtedness. In addition to which a $100 cash prize was to be given to the winner of the raffle. The public was very cold to the idea and as a result few tickets were sold.

No profit has been made on the raffle and the first prize of $100 has been cut down to a first, second and third prize of war savings certificates.

Geo. Derbyshire Builds Plane For Cigarette Fund

On Display at Legion Club Rooms; Propeller Power Driven; Will Raffle Another Plane For Cigarette Fund.

That handy man, George Derbyshire, has built a handsome plane for the committee of the Cigarette Fund, with which to better solicit funds to send smokers to the local boys serving overseas. Mr. Derbyshire carved the wooden soldier which is seen at the bank every pay-day.

The plane has been attached to the roof of the sitting room in the Legion club. It is six feet in length and has a wing spread of eight feet. In the cockpit sit two beautiful maidens, Betty Boo and Mary Lou. Behind them are two jackets of cigarettes, with space for many more. An electric driven engine which spins a huge propeller has been placed in the machine. Leading from the plane is an electric cord which in turn is attached to a pole which resembles a cigarette. The "cigarette" is hollow inside and the coins drop into a square box to which it is attached.

A slot has been made at the top of the "cigarette" and when a coin is placed in this slot, it causes an electric contact which drives the propeller. The plane is painted yellow and red with the R.A.F. circle emblem, the color of the Curtiss-Robin machines.

The machine was put on display Monday evening and two dollars in coins were collected in a short space of time.

In the Spring, Mr. Derbyshire will put another engine in the machine and it will be driven from a car battery. The machine will be put on display at the bank each pay-day.

A card hanging alongside the plane reads: "Sweet Cops for the Chaps Overseas. You buy to please Betty Boo and Mary Lou, they will fly the Sweet Cops for You. Put a coin in Sweet Cop stand, and the propeller will spin on command."

Mr. Derbyshire will start construction on another model plane, the material to be of Balsa wood. The plane will be of the same proceeds to go into the Cigarette Fund. The size of the model will be 54 inches wing spread and 31 inches in length.

"TRAVEL TO CANADA"

"Travel to Canada" is the editorial advertisement in a large display type contained in the New York Daily Mirror.

"It is generally agreed that most Americans want to visit the nations of this hemisphere in the solid belief that can resist any attempted invasion," says the Mirror. "It is a fact that almost all Americans want to visit England in any way short of war."

"Best way to contribute to both these ends is to spend your 'travel dollars' in Canada."

"Alarmists should not be permitted to fan rumours about border inspection into foolish fears that will keep Americans from planning a trip to Canada."

"The simple fact is that no more identification than a voter's registration certificate membership in any automobile club is needed for entry into Canada, or return to America."

Makes Plea For United States To Tighten Export Controls

London.—A plea to the United States to tighten and extend export controls "so as to ensure that no vital materials get through to the enemy" was made by Hugh Dalton, minister of economic warfare, responsible for Britain's blockade of Germany and Italy.

"You could refuse financial facilities to our enemies," Mr. Dalton said in a North American broadcast. "You could immobilize all enemy ships in your ports, you could decline to trade with firms in neutral countries whom we have black-listed as friends of the enemy."

Mr. Dalton contended that through the blockade, the Germans "are now back where they were six months ago—or worse." He stated that the conquered nations have been used up, he said.

He called Italy much poorer than Germany.

He urged the United States to send planes "and more planes" and we shall bomb their war machine to pieces."

Mr. Dalton said the blockade has imposed upon the enemy "serious shortages of rubber, copper, ferrous alloys needed to harden steel, and textiles."

As regards oil, "the key commodity in peace and war," this is how things stand:

"So long as the British navy continues to command the sea, including the eastern Mediterranean, as it will, so long as our air force continues, as it will, to block the enemy's oil plants, oil stocks and oil refineries, and so long as the enemy continues to fight at all—and he cannot fight, without using oil—then in a period measured in months and not in years the enemy's oil position will be one of great and growing scarcity."

The minister, one of the Labor leaders whom Prime Minister Churchill took into his cabinet last May, declared that in the last war slackness in the blockade had prolonged the conflict, thus causing loss of life, "Do not ask us this time to slacken the blockade, and so drag out the war, and swell the sum of human suffering," he urged. The only aim of the blockade, he said, is to shorten the war and hasten victory.

"Bombs and blockade support each other. If we are to have our peace aims later, we must have good bombs now. Our air force shows to the full the offensive spirit. We are not only defending liberty, we are bombing tyranny. . . . Every day, every night our bombs fall on economic targets of the first importance; oil plants and refineries, arms factories, aluminum works, focal points in transport systems, even beer cellars in Munich and power plants in Berlin. Our aim is to smash both the power and the will of the enemy to carry on the war.

In calling for "planes and more planes," Mr. Dalton said: "Our men fly them—splendid young men from this island, and Canadians, Australians, New Zealanders, South Africans, Poles and Czechs. . . . To-day there are too many targets, too few good bombers. As soon as we have enough bombers we shall bomb their war machine to pieces."

"We here in Britain are bombed every day and every night, but we shall never give in. We are mentally and morally prepared to face every experience except defeat."

Britain is grateful for the friendly co-operation which the Roosevelt administration and United States businessmen have given, he said.

More Storage Space

May Build Elevator Annexes At Head Of The Lakes

Ottawa.—Pressing needs for additional storage space anticipated when the 1941 wheat crop comes onto the market may result in the construction of extensive elevator annexes at the head of the lakes, according to well informed sources here.

The various elevator companies operating on the prairies were reported to be in negotiation with the object of co-operating in erection of additional storage space at Fort William and Port Arthur. It would be of a temporary nature similar to annexes already constructed across the prairies at country elevators.

Providing of additional storage space would be private ventures, the federal government having no direct connection with the undertaking.

Industrial Production

Shift In Canada's Economy Is Rapidly Approaching

Ottawa.—The shift in Canada's economy from that of a producer of agricultural and primary products to that of a nation capable of turning its natural wealth into the finished materials of war is being accomplished rapidly, Munitions Minister Howe told The Canadian Press.

The minister was commenting on that of Arthur Greenwood, minister without portfolio in the British House of Commons, to the effect that Canada would render greater help in this war than in the last because she was being converted into an industrial country.

Mr. Howe said the base for the accomplishment of "this greater help" had already been laid.

Some concept of the shift in emphasis and the immense set-up in industrial production can be gained from comparative percentages showing increases for September 1940, over September, 1939.

Taking from the minister's recent speech in the commons those are: Physical volume of business, 24; industrial production, 30; manufacturing production, 32; iron and steel production, 148; textiles, 22; construction, 161.

Largest individual increase in production was shown in cars and trucks, up 294 per cent. Pig iron was up 84, steel ingots and castings 32, British Columbia lumber 49.

Aside from direction and control of industry, the contribution of the department of munitions and supply in dollars-and-cents contracts toward this initiative upon heavy industry and finished products was $360,211,113 between July 14, 1939, and Aug. 31, 1940.

During September, contracts were awarded at the rate of 325 a working month. At Nov. 11, Canadian orders were $540,000,000, making a total of $919,000,000 thrown into the war production effort in the nation.

Under this program, many products not formerly manufactured in this country will be produced and some chemicals not before made in the British Empire.

Some new plants already are in production and many more will go into production within the next two or three months. Canada will make almost every type of gun and all equipment essential to the prosecution of modern mechanized war. A production of 2,000,000 shells per month is anticipated.

At present the automobile industry is producing about 400 automobile units a day, and the expectation is that this will be stepped up to 600 units, and that 2,000 heavy service trucks and tubes will be turned out daily.

Similar expansion is found in other fields like ship-building, where 14,000 men now are employed.

Simple Ceremony

Viscount Rothermere Buried In Bermuda Graveyard

Hamilton, Bermuda.—Viscount Rothermere, who amassed one of Britain's greatest publishing fortunes, was buried simply in a Bermuda graveyard, 3,000 miles from home.

The 72-year-old financial giant, who with his brother founded a great chain of newspapers and periodicals, was buried in the presence of only a few persons after a short, unostentatious service at St. Paul's church in Paget parish.

Lord Rothermere died in hospital here. His body was taken to St. Paul's, where the rector, Archdeacon Henry Marriott, read the service.

The grave was piled high with flowers, ordered by cable from many parts of the globe.

CHIEF OF CAN. NAVAL STAFF

REAR ADMIRAL P. W. NELLES

Paul Bredt Dies

Was President Of Canadian Co-operative Wheat Producers

Calgary.—Paul F. Bredt, of Winnipeg, president of the Canadian Co-operative Wheat Producers, Ltd., and president and managing director of the Manitoba Pool Elevators, Ltd., died here. He was 57.

An honor graduate in agriculture of the University of Manitoba, a successful practical farmer and for many years a leader in farm organization, Mr. Bredt collapsed shortly after completing the annual convention attending the annual convention of the Alberta wheat pool.

Born in Leipzig, Germany, Mr. Bredt came with his family to Canada when he was 14 years old. The Bredts settled on a farm near Edenburg, Sask., just north of Regina.

After graduating from the University of Manitoba in 1914, he went to Regina where he was appointed assistant livestock commissioner for the Saskatchewan government. Within a short time he was named commissioner and held that post until 1919 when he took over a farm at Kemnay, Man., near Brandon.

From the start, Mr. Bredt proved an efficient and capable farmer and in 1926 his agricultural prowess won him a directorship on the board of the Manitoba Wheat Pool, which he joined in 1924. In 1931 he was elected president of the Manitoba Pool elevators and he had held that office since.

Greeks Are Grateful

Leaders Thank British Air Marshal For R.A.F. Assistance

Cairo, Egypt.—Air Marshal Sir Arthur Longmore returned to Cairo after inspecting British air force operations in Greece and conferring with Premier John Metaxas and Gen. Alexander Papagos. He also was received by King George. He expressed satisfaction with the way the air force had adapted themselves to new conditions on short notice. He said Greek leaders thanked him for the R.A.F.'s assistance.

Canada's Steel Production

Ottawa.—Operating at 92½ per cent. of capacity, Canadian steel furnaces reached a record production level in October, the Dominion bureau of statistics reported. Production of steel ingots and castings totalled 186,093 tons, compared with 164,515 the previous month and 149,890 in the same month last year.

Car Plates For Scrap Metal

Hamilton, Ont.—Hamilton motorists are given an opportunity of assisting the war effort in an easy way by plans announced. They are asked to leave their 1940 license plates at service stations and garages to be picked up as scrap metal by patriotic organizations.

THEIR CONFERENCES IMPORTANT

Important conferences between Adolf Hitler, Ramon Serrano Suñer, Spanish Foreign Minister, left, and Count Ciano, are expected to be climaxed by a vital announcement of Italian and Spanish collaboration with Germany of a new Balkan setup.

British Navy Cuts Off Italian Lines Of Communication

London.—The offensive staged by the Mediterranean fleet nipped in the bud an attempt by the Italians to establish new lines of communication through their forces in North Africa. British naval experts suggested.

These experts suggested that the Italian force routed off Sardinia, with damage to six of the enemy warships, including a battleship, was attempting to patrol a new line of communication, perhaps using French civilian vessels off Tunisia to reach Libya where Marshal Graziani's offensive against Egypt has been stalled for a long time and apparently needs reinforcements and supplies.

Apparently the Italians had not expected that Britain's hold on the Mediterranean had been so strengthened by the fleet arm raid on the Italian naval base of Taranto Nov. 11. A big force could be used to patrol the western Mediterranean as a separate naval entity.

It was evident from the admiralty communique announcing the action off Sardinia that Vice-Admiral Sir James Somerville has a big force under his command at the western end of the Mediterranean. His flag is carried by H.M.S. Renown, 32,000-ton battle cruiser. The commander-in-chief of the Mediterranean fleet, Sir Andrew Cunningham, has been operating further east of Greece, Italy proper and Egypt.

What effect this ability to extend the fleet operations will have eventually on the use of the Mediterranean for British merchant ships which now use the Cape of Good Hope route to reach British garrisons in the Middle East, it is impossible to say. But if Mussolini's fleet receives many more blows it may be possible to run convoys through Gibraltar.

For weeks the Italians have found it impossible to make steady use of the direct route across the Mediterranean from Taranto, Brindisi or any other Italian port to Libya.

In the early days of the war the French navy was used to guard the western end of the Mediterranean, leaving the eastern basin to British warships operating out of the naval base at Alexandria. Collapse of French resistance upset this arrangement and other factors combined to make it impossible for the British fleet to keep the whole Mediterranean under control.

But it now is becoming more and more evident day by day that Sir Andrew Cunningham's force has gained a sufficient margin of superiority over the Italian fleet to permit mit a much wider section of the Mediterranean to be patrolled and guarded, and correspondingly to restrain the use of the commercial seafarers between Italy and North Africa.

The actions of the admiralty seem to hint that a full dress offensive has been turned on in the hope of knocking the weaker end of the axis out of the war—the sort of offensive urged in commons by former war secretary Leslie Hore-Belisha.

C.B.C. Report

Fees From Radio License Amount To $2,966,065

Ottawa.—The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation in its annual report for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1940, reported income of $3,752,061 and expenditures at $3,498,071, leaving a net operating surplus of $253,990.

License fees provided $2,966,065. Other income was given as: commercial broadcasting, $700,867; subsidiary hook-ups, $72,653; miscellaneous, $24,485; and a grant for the royal visit of $17,446.

Expenditures were listed as: Programs, $1,150,658; station network, $685,308; engineering operations, $610,482; administration, $162,939; commercial, $108,119; press and information, $83,529; interest on loans, $23,837; and $316,274 for depreciation.

During the year the C.B.C. reported 29,889 different broadcasts which occupied a period of 10,473 broadcasting hours or an average of more than 28½ hours of broadcasting a day. This compares with 18,610 broadcasts occupying 7,020 hours for an average of 19½ hours a day in 1938-39.

Wishful Thinking

Berlin.—Robert Ley, leader of the Nazi labor front, promised munition workers that if Germany should win the war the "German dad will put his wife and three or four children into a 'people's car' and travel on reich's auto roads from Klagenfurt to Narvik." Klagenfurt is near the Yugoslav border, in southeastern Europe, and Narvik is above the Arctic circle in northern Norway.

Does Not Control Luxuries

London.—Lord Woolton, minister of food, said "It's not my business to control luxuries" and declined to take a regulatory interest in the prices of turkey and caviar. "It's my business," he said, "to control the price only of those things essential to the life of the nation."

Plan To Establish Another News Service For C. B. C. Stations

Ottawa.—Plans for the establishment of a national news service prepared and edited by the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation's staff have been approved by the board of governors, a statement issued by Gladstone Murray, general manager, said. The statement follows:

The board of governors of the CBC has given final approval to the plans for establishment on Jan. 1 of a national news service prepared and edited by the CBC staff. The national news service will be carried by all private stations and in addition by all private stations needed to extend coverage throughout the country. The service will be available to all other private stations desiring it. No advertising will be permitted, the service being strictly unsponsored.

The CBC is setting up a radio news compilation staff with Dan McArthur as chief editor.

The staff will prepare news bulletins at Vancouver, Winnipeg, Toronto, Montreal and Halifax for use without advertising sponsorship over CBC stations and such other stations as request them.

The provision of its news service without charge is a continuation of the public service policy adopted by The Canadian Press toward radio in 1933. Until 1939, The Canadian Press prepared a bulletin service at its own expense. From July 1, 1939, until the present the CBC has should the cost of compilation of news bulletins by Canadian Press staff men.

"In lining up his staff, Mr. MacArthur is relying upon the experience of The Canadian Press in the radio-news field over the last seven years," Mr. Murray said. "The co-operation of the management of The Canadian Press in facilitating the shift over to the CBC compiling staff at the year-end has been admirable and invaluable."

The chief editor of the CBC National News Service has almost 20 years of experience in newspaper and publicity work. He spent five years on the staff of the Toronto Globe in the 20's and more recently was for five years with MacLean Publishing Company. Prior to his appointment he was Ontario representative of the CBC in its press and information department. He is a nephew of the later Peter MacArthur, noted Canadian writer and journalist.

The new radio set-up will mark the disappearance from the air of "The Canadian Press News" which has been carried in four 15-minute bulletins daily over the CBC network.

From Jan. 1, the CBC bulletins will be prepared from the world-wide news service of The Canadian Press and its allies, and from other news sources the CBC so desires.

Under the contract the CBC agrees to emit its news bulletins over nine CBC-owned stations and 25 privately-owned stations. All privately-owned stations designated as essential for national coverage will receive the service free of charge. Any other stations may receive the service at no other expense than wire-line cost.

Labor Must Prepare To Make Sacrifices To Aid War Effort

Ottawa.—A lengthening of the standard working week from 44 to 48 hours "or even higher" now must be considered in Canada, since wartime industrial production has reached the point where a general labor shortage approaches, the labor minister, Hon. N. A. McLaughlin, asserted in the House of Commons.

"We have reached the point at which, instead of planning to spread the work, we are actually seeking workers to man our rapidly expanding war industries," he said.

"With the distressing news concerning hawage wrought by the enemy in such centres as Coventry, Birmingham, Bristol and Southampton still ringing in our ears and with the (British) minister of shipping admitting that sinkings are going on at a greater rate than replacements, I suggest that this is no time for us to be thinking of maintaining standards which do not take into account the urgency of the situation."

He said the only excuse for asking the temporary relinquishing of certain standards which labor established over the years was "We must win the war—and sacrifice is unavoidable."

If the working week was lengthened, it should not be made "ordinarily long," Mr. McLaughlin said, because experience showed that beyond certain limits, fatigue more than offset any production advantage gained by longer hours.

"The present working week is short of the point at which fatigue becomes a factor and it may be found desirable to progressively lengthen the working week as the available labor supply diminishes," he said. The sacrifice involved would be largely offset by increasing incomes due to steady work and long working hours, and by controls against undue increases in living costs.

It had been urged upon the government that it should order labor to do certain things in the matter of wages or hours.

"There might be conceived some circumstances in which the government might be required to take such action," Mr. McLaughlin said. "But those circumstances do not exist to-day. What labor is looking for is not regimentation but direction. It has made that abundantly clear."

"Dealing as we are with a co-operative body, why should such action be necessary. That is the wrong way."

"The right way is to assume that this is fundamentally labor's war, and that being so, that labor, organized and unorganized, is willing to contribute its maximum effort in this critical time."

"It involves a definite consultation with labor, a testing-out of the viewpoint of labor. The use of the big stick is unnecessary when we are engaged in a common purpose."

The minister cited two specific examples of labor's co-operative attitude in the lengthening of the standard work week.

Local 353 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers in Toronto had lengthened its work week to 48 hours for the duration of the crisis. Regina carpenters in Local 1867 of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America had offered to work 60 hours a week on government work at the regular wage rate. 2388

NOTES AND COMMENTS

THE provincial government has incurred criticism by its determination to spend $30,000 on improving the radio station of the University of Alberta. This has been severely criticized by the Independent group of Legislative members, headed by Mayor Andrew Davidson of Calgary. Individuals are being pressed to avoid spending money on non-essentials, and to loan their savings to the Federal government to help finance Canada's war effort. Therefore, Premier Aberhart's intention to spend $30,000 on reconstruction of the University radio station does not meet with popular favor at this particular time.

THERE is also ground for the presumption that this station will be used for Social Credit propaganda purposes, at the taxpayers' expense of course, and also that Prophetic Bible Institute services will be broadcast. There have been appointments made whereby the government gains control of the radio station. To offset the criticism which has arisen, a letter was sent out by Hon. E. C. Manning to the weekly newspapers refuting the charges of the Independent group, and suggesting they (the newspapers) would render a "public service" by printing it. This request is to say the least, amusing, when one reflects how the Press of this province has been held up to ridicule and scorn by Social Crediters from Mr. Aberhart down to the most subservient member of the back benches.

IT MUST be remembered that the Social Credit government was not elected on a majority vote of the entire province, that its percentage of the aggregate vote was considerably less than 50%. It is not right that taxpayers money should be spent to propagandize theories with which the majority are not in accord. If cabinet members or private members wish at their own expense to buy time over a commercial station, they are at liberty to do so. By its own actions the government incurs well-justified criticism, for it is a well-known fact that ever since it came into power, it has sought control of the radio and the press. This would be a very unhealthy condition for the people should it come to pass.

THIS is written on December 2, a day of bright sunshine, as we journey through the Crows Nest Pass from the coal mining area in the mountains to Macleod, well-known "cow-town" of the Foothills. The significant or surprising thing, to a stranger, is that in a distance of 75 miles, and also a difference in altitude of 1485 feet between Macleod and Crows Nest, there is such a wide variation in temperature, and in reverse ratio to what one would expect. As the train leaves Crows Nest, divisional point on the C. P. R. between Alberta and British Columbia, the snow which has lain since the first cold snap in November is rapidly melting, and the Chinook wind is doing its best to make us believe it really isn't winter—just yet! It seems that the Crows Nest Pass is a meeting point, at times, of the chill winds from the Arctic and the warm winds from the Pacific coast. The Chinook winds of Southern Alberta are very welcome (for they help to shorten the winter, even if they do come at inopportune times; for instance, when a bonspiel is in progress or an important league hockey game is to be played).

AS this is written on the Vancouver-Medicine Hat train, dignified by the name of the Kettle Valley Express coming east, and the Kootenay Express going west, the ice on the river alongside which the railroad makes its horseshoe and snaky curves, is disappearing as the warmer water and the wind do their best to remove traces of winter's first onslaught, mopping up, as it were, after the attack. At Cowley we emerge into the cattle country, though there is a Doukhobor settlement of grain growers, while away to the southeast can be seen Chief Mountain, south of Cardston, gleaming in the afternoon sunshine. We take it all for granted, whereas a little reflection and observation reveals a section of this wonderful Dominion which arouses a spirit of pride in its vastness, its variation of scenery and its wealth of natural resources—a nation which is destined to play a vital part in the British Commonwealth.

Alberta Stand Fifth in Nine Provinces for Per Capita Purchases During Five-Month Period.

Sales of War Savings Certificates to October 31, last, had a face value of $26,091,680, the War Savings Committee announced at Ottawa last week. This total covers the five-month period ended October 31.

British Columbia holds the lead among the provinces with per capita sales of $3.71. Ontario is

PLEASURE TRIPS TO THE U.S.A.

Canada is urgently in need of aeroplanes, aeroplane engines and parts and other vital war requirements. Most of such materials must be purchased in the United States and must be paid for in cash, in United States dollars. To secure these, less important calls upon Canada's available supply of foreign exchange, such as pleasure travel, must be subordinated. That is why the Government has asked Canadians to forego pleasure visits to the United States. It is not that Canada is spending less money in the United States than heretofore. As a matter of fact, our expenditures are running to record levels. The question is one of deciding on the relative importance of the purpose to which our foreign exchange resources may be used. Obviously aeroplanes and other munitions of war are more important in the national interest today than pleasure travel of our citizens in the U.S.A.

A resident of Canada must have a permit to take Canadian or American dollars to the United States. The Foreign Exchange Control Board supplies United States dollars and gives permits to take them out of Canada for legitimate business trips, travel for health reasons and in certain other special cases. Special arrangements have also been made for Canadians living in border communities to continue their normal social intercourse with friends in neighboring American communities. Otherwise, however, Canadians desirous of visiting the United States for pleasure will not be permitted to take out of Canada either Canadian or American dollars.

Canadians who do not observe the Regulations and attempt to take money out of the country without a permit are making themselves liable to prosecution.

U.S. DOLLARS' URGENTLY NEEDED

Many Canadians do not seem to realize that, with certain exceptions, it is against the law for them to hold foreign currencies, which of course, includes United States dollars, so urgently needed to buy war materials abroad. It is the function of the Foreign Exchange Control Board to gather in all foreign exchange arising out of our exports, tourist expenditures in Canada, and from miscellaneous sources and release it for purchases of aeroplanes, guns and other much needed equipment, principally in the United States. If any Canadian has United States dollars, or any other foreign exchange in the form of bank accounts, bills, cheques, drafts, or similar instruments in his possession, without the permission of the Board, he is not only evading the law and leaving himself open to prosecution, but he is hindering Canada's war effort.

WAR SAVINGS

Alberta's new quota for war savings has been set at $60,000 monthly. W. H. Somerville, chairman of the national committee said in Edmonton recently. New objective for the Dominion has been set at $10,000,000 per month. "Canadians must save and save regularly so that our factories and workers may be free to concentrate on production of tanks, shells and airplanes," said Mr. Somerville.

SEVERE PENALTIES FOR EVADERS OF INCOME AND DEFENCE TAXES

Copies of the regulations governing the above taxes have recently come to our desk from the Dept. of National Revenue. To make the matter more impressive, a separate letter preceded these. It is quite evident that there will be no fooling on the part of the government in collecting these taxes. Brief reference was made to those last week, together with the information that, at present there is a competent accountant now resident in town who can give able assistance to anyone not familiar with the requirements of the act.

Extracts from the letter just received, sum up to this: "If a taxpayer fails or refuses to keep adequate books or accounts, the Minister can compel same to be kept... and as he may prescribe... Severe penalties are provided for failure to do so."

All that is required is that book-keeping records will show at a glance the financial position of the taxpayer for income tax purposes at all times.

It would be wise indeed to have books up to date for you never know when a government inspector will come along to check up.

It is our duty to publish this information, not only for those of British stock, but particularly for those in business here who have come from foreign countries. Lack of understanding on their part may lead to serious consequences. In conversation with one of the latter it was evident that he did not know there is a war on and disclaimed the tax.

Happiness consists in the attainment of our desires, and in our having only right desires. —Augustine.

Daily Papers to Combine In Getting Late Editions to Pass on Day of Issue

An agreement has been reached between two of Alberta's dailies, Calgary Herald and Lethbridge Herald, to get their late editions into the Pass towns the same day as published. This will mean that the final edition of the Lethbridge Herald will arrive in the Pass towns a little later than the present delivery but will also mean that more up-to-the-minute news will be contained in the issue.

Theatre Notes

Gorgeous Lana Turner, Richard Carlson and Artie Shaw and his band play leading roles in Dancing Co-Ed. which plays The Palace to-night and Friday. A picture featuring the modern dancemania as collegiate "alligators" and their "fever franks" revel in 19 hot-lock rug-cutting rhythms of Artie Shaw and his band.

The week-end feature at the Palace will be "Lillian Russell," starring Alice Faye, Henry Fonda, Edward Arnold and Don Ameche. The players give a superb performance and songs such as "After the Ball is Over" and other old timers lend towards an evening of real enjoyment.

The old favorite, Wallace Beery, comes to the screen next Tuesday and Wednesday in "Thunder Afloat" an adventure story of America's suicide fleet matching its skill and courage against the Hun submarine attack. It draws back the curtain of secrecy which has hitherto hidden the method of attack against the dreaded submarine menace.

At Cole's theatre this week-end, the record best selling novel, "Rebecca" is brought to the screen. Feature players are Laurence Olivier and Joan Fontaine. Many have read the book — now see the story actually brought to life on the screen. It is truly a great picture.

Jottings From The North Fork

For, well-known rancher whose comments appear frequently in The Calgary Herald, comes the following amusing comment on the question: "Can you milk a cow?" which caused many to ponder when filling in their registration forms last August.

We've been reading in the papers and hearing a lot lately about the question in our registration card, "Can you milk a cow?" and it seems to be more or less of a joke to everyone except the folks to whom the job of squeezing out the lactical fluid a couple of times a day is just a portion of the daily routine.

Now we don't want to find fault with the authorities for trying to ascertain what portion of our population have any knowledge of cows and their by-products, in fact from our own observations we think it high time that they did undertake such a survey, as the education of some of our city visitors seems to have been neglected along these lines, as we were informed recently that the milk out here on the range was not the right color and another youngster, while watching us juice the Jersey, wanted to know which one of those taps we get the cream out of.

However, we are of the opinion that the question, as it was put, was too blunt and not specific enough, as some folks, might answer in the affirmative and be able to qualify alright when demonstrating their accomplishments on an old bossie whose head is anchored in a station, with a jall of chop in front of her, to occupy her attention.

But given the same critter to milk, when the flies are getting in their best ticks and about every second squirt she tries to knock your eye out with her tail, and when a particularly persistent fly with an airplane buzzer comes around, she suddenly decides that a milk bath would be beneficial to her off-hind foot, and attempts to immerse said member in the milk pail, then only an expert with years of experience, who can wield a wicked milk stool and possesses a vocabulary which can be used with great fluency, can cope with the situation.

We have sort of a hunch that some of the folks who have had a lifelong association with the milk pail, were rather reluctant to reveal to the powers that be, their efficiency, while others, who no doubt had been experimenting during their holidays, were only too glad to show that they had some knowledge of things pertaining to the farm. Far from us to be any intention of trying to discourage them, for we note by the papers that we are likely to be called upon to furnish milk in its various processed forms to the Mother country, and we thank God that we have the milk-giving bossies and the willing hands to help in extracting this important item. We who have attained more or less perfection in the art will be only too happy to serve this part of our ancient and honorable occupation.

REACHING OUT AFTER BUSINESS

Last week's issue of Red Deer's up-and-coming weekly newspaper, The Advocate, contained sixteen pages of eight columns each, in which the merchants co-operated in putting on a retail selling campaign under the heading of "Dollar Days." It was a splendid demonstration of aggressive merchandising on the part of the stores and doubtless will result in increasing the volume of business during the pre-Christmas season. One large well-known store carried three complete pages of advertising. The merchants appreciate the advertising value of their weekly newspaper by carrying attention compelling display advertisements. The Advocate stated "it is the big sale event of the 1940 season—a merchandising accomplishment which hundreds of people of the town and district will participate in with profit and pleasure."

Macleod Will Organize Hockey Club—Meeting Held on Friday Night

It is some years since Macleod loomed large in the hockey picture of Southern Alberta. Popular opinion believes the time is ripe to revive interest in this fine winter sport, therefore a meeting will be held in the Queen's hotel at 7:00 p.m. on Friday to organize.

With its central location between the prairies and the Pass towns, Macleod is favorably situated to play home-and-home games and a regular paying schedule will be of value in enlivening the town during the winter. With a fine arena, hockey should be encouraged to the limit. Its value to the younger generation cannot be overestimated, besides which it creates a healthy rivalry and promotes goodwill. By all means let's have a hockey team and put Macleod back on the sports map this winter.

Men Of The Sea

Are Again Proving Their Bravery

And Devotion To Duty

"England expects that every man will do his duty." Some 135 years have elapsed since the glorious meaning of those simple words was borne home to the British people on the wings of Nelson's triumph at Trafalgar. But the spirit of his signal flames as brightly in the hearts of free Britons now as on that morning off the Spanish Cape.

Too often we talk of sea power in terms of ships and guns, not thinking for the moment how much men count in the total equation, whose devotion to God and home gives them the will and the strength to do their duty by king and country. Only this understanding of their high heritage as free men can sustain those whose duty calls them straight into the blazing muzzles of an enemy.

It is because of the moral lift imparted by their constancy and valor quite as much as the tactical success of their deed that the hearts of the British people, and Americans, too, go out in gratitude to the men of the Jervis Bay, the unarmored merchant cruiser which held off a German raider until most of the ships of its convoy could escape.—Christian Science Monitor.

Old Custom Disappearing

Manufacture Of Electric Clocks Will Do Away With Winding

The government at Washington tries to put a good face on it by saying that 63 per cent of all clocks made in this country last year were hand wound. But actually those who have a tender feeling for the old-fashioned things of life may as well kiss clock-winding good-bye. About 16,000,000 clocks were made in 1939 and 10,000,000 of these were wind-up alarm clocks. Two thirds of the rest of the clocks made were electric or motor wound.

No one can find anything very quaint about winding an alarm clock. We have little doubt that the whole 10,000,000 made last year were wound this way by a mighty growth of painful reflection on what would follow at gray dawn. Of the mantel clocks made last year 1,250,000 were electric and of the wall clocks 700,000. Our Washington dispatch adds saying so, but it is entirely possible that there were even some electric grandfather clocks made, a modernism one can only shudder over.—New York Times.

Skilled Labor Shortage

Insufficient Skilled Help To Meet Demands Of War Industries

Technical school officials at Toronto said that although such schools throughout Canada are working at or near capacity, they cannot hope to graduate sufficient skilled labor to meet the demands of Canada's war industries.

They said aircraft groundmen and fine instrument workers are most in demand and that many students of technical schools are being employed by industries before they have completed their courses.

In some cases, officials said, students in their final years are receiving wages in the nature of "retainer" fees from industries wishing to ensure their services when graduated.

Using Gas Storage

Canada Applies British Discovery To Preservation Of Fruits

Great advances have been made in the cold storage of fruits and vegetables by the Science and Experimental Services, Dominion Department of Agriculture and other research establishments in Canada, and the recent use of gas storage, discovered in Britain after research in the respiration of fruits, is being applied in Canada to Canadian varieties in relation to commercial requirements. Definite progress is being made in maturity studies and studies of problems of dehydration, and the preservation of fruit juices, and science is guiding the application of freezing processes used in the preservation of various agricultural products.

THE ORIGIN AND PURPOSE OF THE CHRISTMAS SEAL

Parcels, letters and packages! 'Twas December 1900 and the Post Office at Copenhagen, Denmark, was piled high with mail. The staff was working overtime, yet no one objected for it was the Christmas Season and a spirit of goodwill and generosity prevailed. As Elmer Holbein, one of the postal clerks, busily stamped letters, an idea occurred to him, "Why couldn't a small tax, just a penny tax, be put on this holiday mail?" "A tax which would provide money to finance a campaign against the disease, tuberculosis." "Why couldn't a bright colorful stamp be sold, a stamp which would be a table talk for the postal clerks, busy stamped letters? It was helping to bring protection from tuberculosis to all the people, especially to the boys and girls."

Other Countries Adopt the Idea

Thus the idea of the Christmas Seal originated. The first sale of the stamps in Denmark in 1904 was a great success and other countries quickly adopted the plan. In 1907 the United States had their first sale of Christmas Seals. A touching incident in connection with this first sale in North America is the story of the little newswoman whose sister was ill with tuberculosis. He had heard the Sale of Christmas Seals discussed in the newspaper office, and his sister's help helped him to the marble-topped desk in the Seal Sale office and proffering a penny, said: "Gimme one, me sister's got it."

Saskatchewan Joins the Crusade

Although Christmas Seals were sold in various provinces of Canada earlier than 1917 it was not until that year that a Dominion-wide appeal was made, and it was only in 1929 that Saskatchewan joined the crusade of the preventive services that Christmas Seal funds could provide. But on a thorough province-wide campaign which brought in $12,130.20. Each year since then say sales with the double-barrel cross, the emblem of the crusade against tuberculosis as their central motif, have appeared, until now everyone—or nearly everyone—has come to accept them as a tradition linked with the holiday season. Last year, at the outbreak of war, the urgent necessity of increased and adequate measures to control tuberculosis was clearly seen, and from a generous and sympathetic people came a contribution of $24,112.83 for the Seal Fund.

The Necessity for Preventive Services
Once again the appeal "Buy Christmas Seals" goes out. The demands on the Preventive Fund have increased. A country at war must guard the health of its people, tuberculosis cannot be allowed to make inroads. It is our responsibility, it is our duty to see that tuberculosis does not attack the youth of our land, the youth on whom we are depending for our protection on land, sea and in the air. We must clear up all infection, we must assure our country that there will be no tuberculosis in the race of young men and women ready to answer the call of duty. And while these men are fighting for us we must use all the facilities at our command to prevent the spread of tuberculosis in the civilian population at home. Nothing would be more shattering to the morale of the forces than to discover that those fighting on the home front had fallen victims to a preventable disease.

The Saskatchewan Anti-Tuberculosis League's Achievements
With justifiable pride we point to Saskatchewan's successful fight against tuberculosis; within the last fifteen years the death rate from this disease has been cut in half. The Saskatchewan Anti-Tuberculosis League has waged a most energetic war against tuberculosis but we must not allow ourselves to be lulled into a sense of false security. There can be no complacency while those who have contracted the disease still are flowing our three sanatoria, while a large number die each year of tuberculosis, while the cost of caring for our tuberculous sick is still a very heavy drain on taxation.

The Preventive Services in This Province
Of the preventive services provided by the Christmas Seal funds the clinics and the three sanatoria, Fort Appelle, Saskatoon and Regina, Albert, and the nine stationary clinics at Regina, Moose Jaw, Swift Current, Yorkton, Canora, Melfort, Tisdale, North Battleford, Wadena do very valuable work. To these clinics the family physician refers patients suspected of having tuberculosis; those who have been exposed to an active case of the disease; contacts as they are called; and the people with chronic cough or run-down condition whose ill-health may be due to tuberculosis. Last year 9,034 people were examined at these clinics.

However, the stationary clinics are but part of the vast program of prevention. Three fully equipped travelling clinics, complete with fully facilities, visit the physicians in the outlying towns and villages during the summer months and assist in tracking down unsuspected or border-line cases. This service is of inestimable value for many cases are thereby discovered when the disease is in the early stage and prompt treatment promises good hope for complete recovery. Four thousand, six hundred and sixty four people were examined by these travelling clinics the past summer.

Apart from the 13,691 persons examined at the clinics the examination of evacuee children entering this province; surveys of schools wherever a case of tuberculosis has been discovered; examination of university and normal school students; examination of enlisted men who have developed symptoms suspicious of tuberculosis; financial assistance to the prevention, that little nursery at the Fort Appelle Sanatorium where babies born of tuberculous mothers are cared for; are all made possible by the Christmas Seal funds.

And then there is education, the most important of all the preventive work. Knowledge of the disease, how it is spread, the precautions to take against infection, the urgency of early discovery and early treatment, must be spread by the physicians in the outlying towns and villages during the summer months and assist in tracking down unsuspected or border-line cases. This service is of inestimable value for many cases are thereby discovered when the disease is in the early stage and prompt treatment promises good hope for complete recovery. Four thousand, six hundred and sixty four people were examined by these travelling clinics the past summer.

Buy Christmas Seals

This year be a partner in this great life-saving campaign! Use parcels of Christmas Seals on your letters and packages. They are gay, colorful and what's more important, they spread a message of tuberculosis-control that is vital to the good health of all. By your purchase of Christmas Seals you can prevent tuberculosis claiming as victims many of our boys and girls, our young men and women between the ages of 15 and 45. In these critical days our country needs every one of these people. While we are concentrating on defeating the enemy we should not forget the ever-present menace of tuberculosis which insidiously demands a toll of human life every year. Tuberculosis can be prevented. People do not inherit tuberculosis, they "catch it," and so long as one case remains the danger of infection is there. Buy Christmas Seals, patriotic, to spend money to wipe out tuberculosis, it would be far cheaper in the end than to go on bearing the terrific cost of caring for the tuberculous sick.

Where to Obtain Christmas Seals

If you have not received Christmas Seals through the mail a letter to "The Christmas Seal Committee, Fort San, Sask." will bring you a supply; or you can buy them from any dealer in your community, the treasurer of your rural municipality, or through a member of the Associated Canadian Travellers. The Seals cost but 1c each. They come in booklets of 100.

This year as you buy your Christmas Seals you need not say with the little newswoman "Gimme one, me sister's got it," but rather "Here's my contribution to the campaign which protects my sister from tuberculosis."

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

DECEMBER 8

A GOOD NEIGHBOR

Golden text: Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy mind; and thy neighbor as thyself. Luke 10:27. Lesson: Luke 10. Devotional reading: Leviticus 19: 13-18.

Explanations and Comments

The Parable of the Good Samaritan, Luke 10:30-37. "The lawyer expected a definition. I cannot tell you Christ replied, till circumstances create him for you. You want a dogmatic exposition of a neighbor, either to use it for controversy, or to have an ideal with which you may warm your heart, or to create a class and close corporation for yourself. But can you tell me that only facts that will reveal a neighbor and your duty to him?" (George Adam Smith). The parable that Jesus gave him was about a certain man who, going down from Jerusalem to Jericho, fell into the hands of thieves who robbed him, beat him, and left him half dead. It was only a reckless man who would have gone that way alone, for he was a Samaritan, and the Jews hated him. Two ecclesiastics, a priest and a Levite, one after the other passed that way. The Samaritan, who might have expected help from them since their office and position obligated them to show mercy to one of their race in need. Nevertheless each passed by on the other side.

Then a Samaritan arrived on the scene and his heart was moved with compassion for the wounded man. Jews felt themselves far superior to Samaritans, and it is interesting to note that Matthew, a Jew, does not record this story, while Luke, the Gentile, does. The Samaritan poured oil and wine upon his wounds, bound them, put the man upon the beast he himself had riding and took him to an inn where he cared for him that night. On the morning he gave the landlord of the inn two shillings, a sum sufficient care for the man for several days, and also gave him what the French call a "carte blanche" for the Samaritan to pay the man at his expense until cured.

"Tis not enough to help the feeble up,
But to support him after!"

—Shakespeare.
Then Jesus asked his listener the question which brought out the purpose of the story. Which of these three, thinkst thou, proved neighbor unto him that fell among thieves? The lawyer would not name him a hated Samaritan, but he was forced to admit that it was "he that showed mercy." The Samaritan had surrounded them must have enjoyed the man's discomfort! Then Jesus said, "Go, and do thou likewise."

Placing Men On Farms

National And Provincial Governments

Of Certain Provinces To

Settle Farm Hands

The national government and provincial governments of British Columbia, Alberta and Manitoba will share equally in the cost of establishing single unemployed men on farms this winter.

An order-in-council tabled in the commons provides that the minister of labor shall be empowered under the Unemployment and Agricultural Assistance Act to contribute to those provinces 50 per cent of the cost incurred. This would be exclusive of administrative costs and on the basis of not more than $5 per month to farmers concerned, $7.50 per individual and $3 for winter clothing.

The plan is to take care of single, homeless unemployed by placing them on farms from Jan. 1 to March 31, 1941, the period of agreement.

Case Was Finished

Incident In Life Of Abraham Lincoln Showed His Character

Early in his career, Abraham Lincoln was trying a case to collect a note, when he was surprised to discover the defendant showing the court a receipt of payment in full.

"Do you remember collecting the money and giving that receipt?" Lincoln asked his client.

"Yes," replied the man, "but I thought he had either lost or forgotten it."

Lincoln arose abruptly and returned to his hotel. A little later when the judge sent word for him to return and finish the case, he said, "Tell the judge I am busy washing my hands."

The Australian kingfisher also is known as a "laughing jackass," getting the name from its laugh-like, crackling cry. The bird is about the size of a crow.

Tides are caused by the attraction of the moon's gravity. As the earth turns, the moon attracts the water in the ocean and raises a bulge in it. The bulge is the tide.

The wide variation in size and shape of agricultural products, compared with factory goods, makes it hard to put them in standard packages.

SHOULD TONSILS COME OUT?

There is substantial evidence that in about 20 per cent of children the tonsils are either enlarged or diseased and therefore have an unfavorable influence on the physical development of the child. Such tonsils should be removed. The tonsils have assumed an important role in the economy of the child during the last 30 years. The beneficial results following removal of tonsils in selected cases have well justified the procedure.

It has been shown that markedly hypertrophied tonsils and tonsils that are repeatedly inflamed, giving rise to attacks of tonsillitis and swollen neck glands, frequently impair normal physical development. When such a condition exists after four years of age it is advisable to have the tonsils removed, with the expectation that at least 50 per cent of children so treated will be materially improved.

It is undeniable that the child population of the country has experienced better physical development with fewer interruptions due to illness and prolonged illnesses in the last 30 years. Infant mortality has been reduced and fatal illness in the school age occurs less often. While the widespread application of public health procedures such as pasteurization of milk, the safeguarding of water supplies and care of foods, and the health education of the public has had the most influence in this direction, it must be admitted that eradication of unhealthy tonsils has played a considerable role in the physical improvement of the race.

The single question to be determined in respect to the tonsils of a child is: Are these tonsils diseased? If so, they should promptly be removed.

"We are proud to serve with the Royal Navy," they replied. "How can you say that?" expostulated the Nationalist. "When the Royal Navy is blockading Holland, forcing starvation upon your mothers and wives?" "Our mothers and wives," replied one Dutch officer quietly, "will be proud to starve."

United States In British House Of Commons Was 100 Years

The late Neville Chamberlain passed into retirement from politics at about the same age as his father, and for the same reason—ill-health. From 1876 there has been a Chamberlain in the British House of Commons, and the United States of America has been a member for 30 years, Austen for 46, and Neville for 24 years, the London Daily Sketch records.

Grand Union Hotel Refreshment Rooms To Open Friday

Modernistic Furniture And Beautiful Decorations Lend Harmonious Air to Surroundings

After many weeks of alterations to the interior of the Grand Union hotel, the new ladies' and gentlemen's refreshment rooms will be open to the public on Friday morning.

Patrons will gain entrance through entrances located on the east side of the hotel and leading in from the avenue. They are circular in design and brilliantly lighted.

The men's refreshment room is much larger than the ladies' and takes in that portion formerly occupied by the dining room and also a portion of the old bar room. Replacing the old booths are small tables and around each are clustered four modernistic designed chairs.

The furniture is of redwood and harmonizes with cream colored walls and ceiling. On the floor is brightly patterned linoleum.

A partition partly separates the men's room from the ladies'. Between the two rooms and located against the west wall is the bar. A large refrigerator has been installed to keep the various beverages cool.

Leaving the men's room and entering the ladies', one is struck by the color scheme. The walls are decorated in a soft-toned green, the furniture being blue and brown leather bound chairs with white maple tables. Here too there is brightly patterned linoleum on the floor.

Large electric light lamps hang from the ceiling, lending a quiet lighting effect to the rooms.

John S. D'Appolonia, contractor, was in charge of the alterations.

Mrs. W. L. Rippon, a patient in the hospital since Monday, was allowed home this Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. James Fraser was hostess at a bridge party at her home on Wednesday evening. Prize winners were Mrs. Jack Price and Mrs. Howard Davies.

Mrs. A. F. Short was hostess at a bridge party at her home on Monday evening in honor of Mrs. Gordon Nurcombe. Four tables were in play.

Mrs. A. Walker was hostess at a bridge party at her home on Tuesday evening. Three tables were in play. Prize winners were Mrs. R. Gillies, Mrs. A. Dewar and Mrs. J. Rogers.
